

Test & Validation Software Engineer

Description

AvidBeam has an opening for a talented Software Engineer in Testing. The successful candidate will join a highly motivated team of software engineers and developers responsible for the development and integration of computer vision applications, libraries and building the core platform for AvidBeam products.

What we Offer:

- A Dynamic Growing startup environment with lots of challenges and room to grow
- Hands on experience with a variety of software tools and technologies
- A heterogeneous environment of software, communications, and research engineers
- Corporate like ethics and code of conduct

Qualifications

- Basics
 - B.Sc. Degree in Computer Science or Engineering
 - Strong programming experience with C/C++ and Java
 - Previous working experience in software product development and testing
 - Familiarity with Testing Tools and Strategies
 - Hands on experience with writing test cases
 - Good to know C#, Python, Ruby, Rails, NodeJs

To apply, submit your resume or CV together with the cover letter to hr@avidbeam.com